

CAIR Liaison Positions 2010-2011

CAIR on the National Stage

This document is a guide to CAIR's interactions with other national medical organizations, specifically those to which CAIR sends representatives. Through CAIR, Residents have a seat on committees and councils of almost all the major national medical bodies. This document provides information on these CAIR positions.

CAIR Liaison Representatives

Liaison representatives represent the mission, vision, values and policies of CAIR in all interactions with national stakeholder organizations, advocating the collective interests of residents in educational, professional and well-being issues. They become knowledgeable about the liaison organization to which they are the representative.

Liaison representatives attend all liaison meetings and teleconferences of the organization to which CAIR is invited, and immediately following a meeting or teleconference, provide CAIR with a written report, using the CAIR report template, about the meeting, summarizing key issues as they relate to CAIR, and identifying issues requiring action by CAIR.
